West Kirby Farmers' Market

News

Next market - Saturday 25th January 2020 9am-1pm

The Chocolate Cellar - "We hope you'll be feeling the love this month as it's all about hearts!! We have selection of heart-y treats and will have boxes of truffles to include some of the most loved ones- champagne, rose, violet, salted caramel."

Little Eye Bakery - "I am going to make a few sourdough baguettes for Saturday, fermented overnight and coming hot to market - plus our usual range of sourdoughs and some leavened cheese oatcakes."

Pat's Farmhouse Preserves - "It's all about the marmalades this month - with the new season Seville orange marmalades."

Chilly Stuff - "I'll be bringing my homemade pizzas again, plus pizza garlic bread and of course the gelato."

John Jones Market Garden - "I'm hoping to have Jerusalem artichokes and new season pink rhubarb."

Veggie Fare - "We will have 2 new products for January - a really tasty vegan pasty filled with lentils, fennel, cinnamon, lemon chunks & veg, and a Halloumi & beetroot scotch egg. We're happy to say that we now have reusable/ returnable pots for our range of hummus. Remember to bring them back for a refill!"

Pen-y-Lan Pork - will be bringing more of their homemade pork pies along with the popular sausage rolls. Mike will be doing the last 2 mixes of the orange, cranberry & chestnut sausage which he did for Christmas. If anybody wants gluten-free sausage a small batch will be available by order only - but he needs to know by Wednesday - drop him a email at Mikeford01@googlemail.com

NEW - Plant B Quesadillas - Vegan and vegetarian quesadillas using fresh ingredients. "We will have our classic Broccoli and Spicy Green quesadillas and we have created a delicious new flavour called mixed peppers, which we will be launching in West Kirby."

Funky Flapjacks - "Best wishes to everyone for a happy and healthy year! This month I am hoping to include a 'dairy-free' cake as well to celebrate Veganuary. Although this Chocolate Cake is dairy-free, I feel tastes as good as any of the others, so please come along and try it!"

Bongo's Chilli Pickles - "Happy New Year everyone, sorry we can't be there this month but if you need to stock up on your Bongo's Chillis go online to our shop and use the voucher 2020SALE to receive 10% off any orders over £14."

Stay for cake... a cuppa... and a bacon batch

Profits from the market's community café this week go to Hilbre High School PTA - fundraising for a minibus for their Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme.

A Sparkling Review

★★★★★ a day ago

Bought a 'Chocolate Workshop - Dabble' voucher as a Christmas present for my mum. We went this morning to the session at Claremont Farm. Bala, the owner of The Chocolate Cellar, facilitated the session. This lady exudes warmth and sincerity! Nothing was too much trouble for her and she made everyone feel at ease from the start. As the name suggests, this session is only an introduction to the art of chocolate making. We covered the origins of chocolate and the different types of chocolate production in operation around the world. We went on to make our own chocolates, which we were able to bring home. We had a chocolate-themed quiz while we waited for our chocolates to solidify. The two hours flew over, but it was money well spent and I'd definitely recommend The Chocolate Cellar as a company you can trust.

The next available workshops are on Sunday, 16th February at Choc Cellar HQ, but you can also book private workshops for birthday parties, school groups, corporate events or just special individual treats.

See www.thechocolatecellar.co.uk for workshop details and links to online tickets.
